SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY/KAISER RECYCLING MARKET DEVELOPMENT ZONE

ZONE INFORMATION

The San Bernardino County/Kaiser Recycling Market Development Zone (RMDZ) is a unique public and private partnership between San Bernardino County and Kaiser Resources, Inc. This 1200-acre project is located in the West San Bernardino Valley and includes the former Kaiser Fontana Steel Mill. The zone site is "C" shaped, wrapping around the California Steel Industries plant, which operates steel rolling and finishing mills. The site will be developed in multiple phases, intended to include industrial, commercial, and business park uses as well as a major international motor racing speedway.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

California Recycling Market Development Zones are designated by the Integrated Waste Management Board. The Board offers low-interest loans up to $1 million, technical assistance on financing strategies, and assistance in marketing zones nationally and internationally. For more information on this program and other market development programs, contact the Board's Recycling Business Assistance Branch at (916) 255-1000.

TARGET MATERIALS

Targeted materials identified to provide businesses with continuous feedstock include newspaper, high grade and mixed paper, yard waste, metal, tires, and wood.

INFRASTRUCTURE

Construction of the West Valley Materials Recovery Facility is a significant planned project within the San Bernardino County/Kaiser Zone. New roads will be constructed and other existing roadways will be upgraded to serve the facility. Improvements will be made to the regional roadway system that services the site. The San Bernardino/Kaiser Zone will provide marketing through a system of outreach, referrals, advertising, and conferences. San Bernardino County, through its Department of Economic and Community Development, provides financing and permitting assistance for new and expanded businesses within the zone.
